OVERVIEW

Civil Aviation Training International Forum 2019 attracted nearly 200 delegates from governments, organizations, institutes, universities, industrial enterprises and media, and it hosted nearly 15 domestic and foreign speakers who delivered keynote speeches.

5th Civil Aviation Training International Forum 2019 was successfully held in Sanya, Hainan Province from 24th to 25th September, 2019. This forum was approved by Foreign Affairs Office of Hainan Province of the PRC and the Foreign Affairs Office of Shanghai Municipality, hosted by Shanghai Society of Aeronautics, Civil Aircraft Operation Support Technology Sub-committee of CSAA and Shanghai Aerospace Enthusiast's Center, Supported by HNA Group's Hainan Sky Plumage Flight Training Company, Organized by COMAC Shanghai Aircraft Customer Service Co.,Ltd., Civil Aviation Flight University of China, and Galleon (Shanghai)

Consulting Co., Ltd., Co-organized by China Airline Pilots Association.

The speakers delivered brilliant speeches on hot topics like Competency Based Training Throughout the Pilot Career, Management of Automation and Manual Manipulation, Application of Digital in Flight Training, Development of COMAC New Technology Multimedia Courseware and competencies & risks, promote training quality etc.

The forum brought together nearly 60 well-known domestic and foreign Airlines, Associations, Universities, Embassy, Aircraft Manufacturers and Simulator manufacturers, a total of nearly 200 participants attended the event. Participants fully showed their brand, new technology and new products through keynote speeches, panel discussions, exhibitions, and one-on-one business meeting.

The attendees expressed their further understanding of China's pilots training through this event, meeting new partners and discovering new business opportunities. We hope to enhance the interaction between buyers and suppliers, complete the aviation training industry system and improve the industry standard level by setting up a platform for ideas exchanges.

We are delighted to say that this forum has made a deep impression on delegates because it has not only gathered global leading enterprises, but also has involved many valuable topics. Great thanks for 2019 Civil Aviation Training International Forum's hosts, association and media partners. We hope that more experts and scholars will actively participate in the forum next year to promote the development of aviation training industry.
